4/18/75

Dear Paul Wurtzel,

Thanks for your 4/11.

While I presume there is no way of getting people who live in fear to escape that particular prison, the time for being afraid on this subject is long past.

I continue to get from the government what has long been suppressed.

They are now afraid and as I read their moves they are seeking to misdirect again, a project in which they have considerable help from those who if believed intend otherwise.

The whole picture is changing daily.

A major TV net is making a major effort. I am not talking about the utter insanity of MGM doing Ford crappy book or CBS' purchase of the TV right. That ought be a financial disaster.

But the big minds work that way, I guess.

My work is of broader scope than I think I've indicated. I'm reminded of this by your reference to Schneider and Viet Nam.

Had it not been for what I regarded as the evil doctrine of other works as they followed mine my second book would have been "Tiger to Ride," on the JFK Presidency. Including revision of the revisionists. That research was completed in 1965.

There is a bit of encouragement but I've learned it means nothing until the check clears.

Thanks for your efforts.

Best regards,
